

National Children's Day

Published: Saturday, Feb. 25, 2006

BANGKOK, Thailand — Members of the Don Muang Branch, Bangkok Thailand Stake, participated in the Communication Authority of Thailand National Children's Day celebration in mid-January. The branch was given a booth at the event where activities included promoting the Church's English class program in Bangkok and encouraging children to speak better English.

Members of the branch, some beginning their day at 3:30 a.m., supported the activity by doing things such as setting up the booth and collecting gifts and prizes for games. Branch President Chaithip Prasong said he felt members grew closer to the community as they served, and that the activity helped people to have a better understanding of the Church.